DETAILED ACTION

CLAIMS PRESENTED

Claims 1-27 are presented.

RESPONSE TO ARGUMENTS

Applicant has responded to two issues: (1) rejection under 35 USC 2nd Para. and (2) judicially created obviousness double patenting.

Regarding rejection under 35 USC 112 2nd Para., Applicant has argued that the claims are directed to a specific usage of "behavior" in a specific parlance within the art of finite state machines. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., finite state machines) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Regarding the judicially created obviousness double patenting, Applicant has argued that the claimed inventions of the claims of the present application "has broader applications [phrase from the Applicant's response itself, page 8]." By this phrase, Applicant refers to the fact that claim 16 of the other application (from which the double patenting currently results) can be interpreted as referring to a sliding windows search. Applicant [Applicant's response, page 8] states: "The present application ... has broader applications than that of sliding windows search." Applicant himself states that the claims of the present invention are broader than claim 16 of the other application in this very sense. Because the narrower claim makes a broader claim to be obvious, the claims are validly rejected under judicially created obviousness double patenting.

CLAIM REJECTIONS

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-27 are rejected as being unpatentable (1) due to 35 USC 112, 2nd Para. , and (2) due to judicially created obviousness double patenting (as noted in the previous Office Action).

Conclusion

The art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The art disclosed general background. They were discussed in the previous office Actions.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
